

Program Counselor – Aquatics

Tumbleweed Day Camp

Program Counselors are the heart of our work at Tumbleweed. They deliver the exceptional camp activities that help our campers create connections, master new skills, and develop autonomy.

We believe in a community built out of diverse experiences. We strongly encourage members of underrepresented groups to work at camp.

About Tumbleweed

Tumbleweed's mission is to build happy people through teaching critical life skills. This is hard work, and camp is a great place to do hard things! But we can't do hard things alone, which is why everyone at Tumbleweed commits to supporting each other's growth from the beginning. Just like our campers, we unplug, explore and play throughout the day. We teach play, and we play while we work. Expect to get dirty, wear silly costumes, and be a hero to your campers. Expect to work long days and to have camp songs stuck in your head months later. Expect to collaborate with everyone at camp and to make life-long friendships. We have a growth mindset as an organization (we wouldn't have stuck around since 1954 if we didn't), and you'll succeed here if you do, too. This isn't your typical job, and we don't have typical expectations. If you want to make the world a better place, expecting more from yourself and your job is a great first step. We're excited to take that first step with you!
